Dear Gene:

I know that you have been quite busy in the past few weeks and doing an excellent job in the process. The purpose of this note is to keep you up to date in the most convenient fashion and then depend upon other channels of communication for details. Your pictures, both the newspaper photo and the glossy print, arrived safely and were circulated immediately. These were very fine photographs and they were appreciated, and I have yet to see any others of that type from the press.

Yesterday [REDACTED] was named Deputy to Carl. I hope that the news reaches you first through this medium. I plan to circulate a formal notice later on today, and they may arrive concurrently.

You asked for Russ' address out there, and his home and APO addresses are as follows:

I will get this off to you so that perhaps the news will still be fresh when you receive it.

Best regards,
